

Load Management and Price Responsive Demand Testing Conforming Manual Changes

Jack O'Neill
Sr. Lead Engineer, Demand Response Operations
Market Implementation Committee
June 8, 2022

- FERC approved Load Management (LM) and Price Responsive Demand (PRD) testing changes in 2020
- Changes become effective starting June 2023
- Changes designed to better simulate LM/PRD event conditions
- Also, removed references to now obsolete LM products

- M18, Sections 3A.6.3B for PRD and 8.7 for LM
 - PJM schedules tests
 - One test per year (test required only if not dispatched)
 - Retesting provisions
 - Tests are two hours in duration
 - Test can take place year-round consistent with CP
 - Three tiered notification process
- M28, Sections 11.1 and 11.2.1.A
 - CSPs are compensated for LM test MWh reductions
- M01, Section 1.9
 - Electronic notification utilized
