Summary

The energy industry is in a state of transition. A combination of many factors is accelerating the pace of change.

The October 2022 General Session, The Energy Transition – Opportunities and Challenges, explored opportunities to consider through the transition to maintain reliability and efficient markets, as well as ways to ensure/enhance energy equity and environmental justice. This session will continue examination of issues surrounding the ongoing energy transition.

How Do We Meet the Cyber and Physical Security Challenge?

Cyber threats from foreign and domestic bad actors are increasing in both frequency and complexity. The importance and security of critical infrastructure assets, as well as all generation, transmission and distribution facilities, have been challenged, as evidenced recently by several attacks.

In this portion of the agenda, guest experts will provide perspectives on ensuring both cyber and physical security through the transition and beyond.

Learning From Others

The energy transition is not unique to the PJM region. Other portions of the country, and the world, have been experiencing the progression of the transition in advance of PJM.

This panel of representatives from other ISO/RTOs will offer insights gained from their experiences.

Antitrust:

You may not discuss any topics that violate, or that might appear to violate, the antitrust laws including, but not limited to, agreements between or among competitors regarding prices, bid and offer practices, availability of service, product design, terms of sale, division of markets, allocation of customers or any other activity that might unreasonably restrain competition. If any of these items are discussed, the chair will redirect the conversation. If the conversation still persists, parties will be asked to leave the meeting or the meeting will be adjourned.

Code of Conduct:

As a mandatory condition of attendance at today's meeting, attendees agree to adhere to the PJM Code of Conduct as detailed in PJM Manual M-34, section 4.5, including, but not limited to, participants' responsibilities and rules regarding the dissemination of meeting discussion and materials.

Public Meetings/Media Participation:

Unless otherwise noted, PJM stakeholder meetings are open to the public and to members of the media. Members of the media are asked to announce their attendance at all PJM stakeholder meetings at the beginning of the meeting or at the point they join a meeting already in progress. Members of the media are reminded that speakers at PJM meetings cannot be quoted without explicit permission from the speaker. PJM Members are reminded that "detailed transcriptional meeting notes" and white board notes from "brainstorming sessions" shall not be disseminated. Stakeholders are also not allowed to create audio, video or online recordings of PJM meetings. PJM may create audio, video or online recordings of stakeholder meetings for internal and training purposes, and your participation at such meetings indicates your consent to the same.
